

Weddings An

Photo By Leslie

MRS. JOHN PAUL MIGA, the former Beth Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Story of Auburn.

Miga-Story Nuptials Solemnized This Morning

At one of the pretty late Spring weddings today, Miss Beth Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Story of 92 Gill Street, Auburn, became the bride of John Paul Miga, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Miga of 47 Marianna Street, Lynn, Mass.

Rev. John Feeney officiated at the double ring ceremony which was solemnized at 11 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church with the bride's two sisters, Miss Mary Louise Story of Auburn, attending her in the honor role, and Mrs. Thomas Joyce of Portland, as bridesmaid.

Edward Whyte of Lynn, was best man and the ushers were a cousin of the bridegroom, Neal Murphy of Medford and Richard St. Cyr of Gloucester, Mass.

Simple arrangements of gladioli decorated the altar for the ceremony at which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her lovely gown was charmingly simple. Of silk organza over taffeta, its only ornamentation was hand clipped lace, delicately embroidered with seed pearls and sequins which extended in an elongated vee down the front of the bodice and onto the bouffant skirt. A circular veil of illusion was caught to a tiara of pearls, iridescent sequins and tiny crystal drops. She carried a missal decorated with phalaenopsis orchids arranged in corsage with stephanotis and ivy.

The bride's attendants were identically gowned in gold wheat short skirted frocks embroidered silk organza, waistlines cinched with cummerbunds in matching hue. Face veils fell from coronets, bright with iridescent beads and they carried cascades of yellow daisies.

A corsage of white feathered carnations and pink sweetheart roses contrasted prettily with willow green silk jacketed dress worn by the bride's mother who completed her ensemble with a white flower hat accented with touches of green.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a brown eyelet frock with pink accessories and her corsage was of pink feathered carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Wedding guests were received at a reception at the Starlight Room of Steckino Restaurant.

Miss Maria Pratz of Lynn had charge of the guest book.

The couple will live at Wakefield, Mass. after a wedding trip to Vermont.

A graduate of Edward Little High School and Lynn General Hospital School of Nursing the bride is a staff nurse at the hospital. She is a member of St. Catherine's Guild and the Massachusetts Nurses Association.

Mr. Miga was educated at Lynn English High School and Boston University and was a student of Filene's Merchandising program. He is currently associated with the Zayre's stores as a department manager at the Woburn (Mass.) branch.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fitzpatrick of Bangor, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Staples, Robert S. Manson of Gardiner, Mrs. George C. Staples, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joyce of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Kelley, Brunswick, Mr. and Mrs. Norman D'Entremont, North Berwick, Mrs. Ralph Merrow, Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Miga, parents of the bridegroom and his grandmothers, Mrs. Emily Sharkey and Mrs. Anna Lakus, Mr. and Mrs. John Scully, Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins, Mrs. Hazel Hill and David Hill, Lynn, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ryan Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Adey and Mary Jane Adey, Mr. and Mrs. William Kosmas, Charles W. Adey, Fred Belson, all of Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. William McTague, Swampscott, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Adey, Maynard, Mass., E. B. Flamer Sr., Roxbury, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Michael Miga, Arlington, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Wakefield, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. William Miga, and Mr. and Mrs. William G. Murphy and Neal Murphy of Medford, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Francis Anderson and Gay Anderson and Mrs. James Cornman, Sandwich, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnston, Waltham, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cucurull, Peabody, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Richard St. Cyr, Gloucester, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlson, Reading, Mass., Mrs. Benjamin Kubasik, New York, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, Saugus, Mass.